

Financial Wellness: A Must-Have Employee Benefit

Services Provided by iGrad™ Enrich

Your employees may be experiencing more financial challenges today than ever before. To help employees like yours improve their financial stress and become more productive at work, Mutual of Omaha provides access to a comprehensive financial wellness tool, powered by Enrich.

Resources and Tools

The Enrich financial wellness tool is a convenient, one-stop shop that provides employees access to a variety of informational and educational resources tailored to their needs, such as:

- Online courses
- Webinars and financial coaching videos
- Budgeting tools and calculators
- Career development tools
- Chat functionality for technical support
- And more!

The availability of this tool comes at a great time as employees are spending more time and effort exploring and seeking solutions to their financial situation.

Here's how it works — your employees simply:

- Go to mutualofomaha.com/eap
- Click on Managing Finances to locate the Enrich link
- Click Sign Up
- Complete registration information and begin

Why Have a Financial Wellness Tool?

50%

of employees say they worry about their personal finances at work.

Source: PwC's 9th annual Employee Financial Wellness Survey, PwC US, 2020.

Benefits to you and your employees:

- ☒ Increases employee engagement, job satisfaction and retention
- ☒ Reduces healthcare costs and illness-related absenteeism
- ☒ Fewer employee health issues related to financial stress

Contact me for more information.

This is not health insurance. Financial Wellness tools are offered through iGrad™ Enrich. Although Mutual of Omaha Insurance Company (Mutual of Omaha) makes Enrich's services available to EAP customers, the use of Enrich's services is entirely voluntary. Mutual of Omaha does not provide, are not responsible for, do not assume any liability for and do not guarantee the accuracy, adequacy or results of any service, advice or documents provided by Enrich. Mutual of Omaha is not responsible and do not assume liability for any disclosure of personal data or information by Enrich. Services are only available to EAP customers of Mutual of Omaha.