

Travel assistance services

Coverage no matter where life takes you

What do you do when an unexpected medical emergency happens while you're traveling?

No worries. That's already "packed" into your group life insurance. We want to make sure you can get the help you need – whenever you need it and no matter where you are in the world. That's why we teamed up with Generali Global Assistance, Inc. (GGA) to help provide a safety net so you and your dependents have peace of mind knowing you'll be able to get help.

You can get medical travel assistance when you're more than 100 miles away from home for 90 days or less. All services, including medical transport, must be arranged in advance by Generali Global Assistance, Inc. You may have to pay fees for certain other services GGA provides, such as cash advances.

Travel assistance services

From immunizations and passports before you leave to transport in a medical emergency during your trip, you have access to a wide range of travel assistance services with GGA. They include:

- Medical referrals and medical monitoring. GGA will help you find doctors, dentists and medical facilities. When you have a medical emergency, professional case managers, including doctors and nurses, will review your case to make sure you're getting the right care or decide if medical transport is required.
- Medical evacuation/return home. If a doctor chosen by GGA decides that you should be taken to the closest adequate medical facility (evacuated) or taken back home for further treatment (repatriation), GGA will make arrangements to take you there and pay for it up to the program limit of $1,000,000 per medical incident (all transport services combined). GGA must make all arrangements.
- Repatriation of remains. Should you, your spouse or a dependent child pass away during a covered trip, GGA will make all necessary transport arrangements to get the remains back to the person's primary residence. GGA will also pay for these arrangements as well as necessary documentation for services arranged by GGA. Cremation can be payable if approved by GGA if requested in lieu of repatriation.

- Help with dependent children. If you are traveling with a dependent under the age of 26 and he or she is left alone because you are in the hospital, GGA will set up and pay for his/her economy class transportation home by the most direct route on economy class airfare, up to $5,000. GGA will also arrange and pay for a qualified escort to go with the child, if needed.
- Visit by family member/friend. If you are traveling alone and will be in the hospital for seven consecutive days, GGA will provide for and pay up to $5,000 for round-trip economy class transportation for one member of your immediate family, or one friend, from his or her home, to the hospital. GGA will also pay for up to five days at $150 per day of meals and lodging for the visiting family member or friend.

Frequently asked questions

Q. In a life-threatening situation, should I call local authorities or GGA?

If you have a life-threatening emergency, first call the local emergency authorities to get help right away. Then, as soon as possible, contact GGA for assistance. GGA representatives will ask for some initial information including your location and your attending doctor's contact information. They will obtain medical information about your condition to determine whether the care you are receiving is adequate and relevant, and decide on the next steps with you. This includes medical transport considerations. GGA must make or approve all transport-related services in order for them to be eligible for coverage. You must contact GGA in order for a transport to be payable.

Q. Does the program provide emergency medical coverage?

Emergency medical coverage is currently not part of the program. GGA can guarantee medical expenses internationally on your behalf but you must provide a credit card guarantee up front. Also, you are responsible for any fees for some services as noted, but not for any arrangements that GGA makes or GGA's case management fees.

Q. I have medical coverage.

Why do I need travel assistance, too?

Medical coverage only takes care of medical expenses. When hospitalized, the most important aspect is to assess whether the care you are receiving is adequate for your condition and circumstance. GGA has the resources to:

- Help you find the right place for medical care, make an appointment and arrange for someone to take you there.
- Monitor your condition and medical evolution and assess if you need to be transported to a different medical facility.
- Advance or guarantee emergency medical expenses with your repayment guarantee. Many overseas facilities will not accept a credit card for payment, and you may not have the necessary cash — making this service a very important aspect of the program.

GGA will also, when possible, work with your health insurance company (if you have international medical coverage) to find payment solutions.

Good planning is your best way to have a great trip!
